Whither Away?

During recent weeks the people of British Columbia have been the witnesses to two political family fights and, oddly enough, both family squabbles, though conducted separately, were prompted basically by the same reason: should the two principals get a divorce?

The Conservative part of the marriage called in all the in-jaws, even Federal Leader Drew. For several years now provincial and federal wings of the party have been quarrelling about their organization. Hon. Herbert Anscomb, the provincial leader, has insisted that he is the head of the party in British Columbia but the Conservative members of parliament from this province, however, believe that Mr. Anscomb is riding on a horse and not a band wagon and they have tried to separate their affairs from his, with Mr. Howard Green as the controlling figure in the federal organization. However, at the recent conference, the federal organization capitulated and agreed that Mr. Anscomb is boss in British Columbia.

Last week the Liberals had an executive meeting and one did not even need to read between the lines of the press reports to appreciate it was anything but a love feast. Apparently a large group attempted to force Premier Johnson's hand and bring about an immediate dissolution of the Coalition Government. However, Mr. Johnson held the whip and emerged from the meeting with it still in his hand. Just how much of the party he has been able to hold to him remains to be seen, but the quarrel was so bitter that it is inevitable that he has lost the support of several key party figures. Indeed, the president of the B.C. Liberal Association, Mr. Harry Perry, has resigned and if one may hazard a prediction, Mr. Perry will eventually be found with the Social Credit party, which seems to be attracting to itself persons who have become alienated from other parties.

What comes next in provincial affairs? Next month the Legislature meets and it probably will be the last one of the Coalition Government, if, indeed, it ends with the Government still intact. Mr. Johnson, as premier, could ask for Mr. Anscomb's resignation at any time and, indeed, Mr. Anscomb has given him ample reasons for so doing. If he did so, he might attempt to carry on the government with the Liberal support alone, or he might call an immediate general election after reforming his government as a strictly Liberal one. On the other hand, he may consider it politically expedient to keep turning his other cheek in order that a general election may be delayed until the fall at least.

The situation is completely confused. The Conservative party does not know where it is going and this, it should be added, is equally true of the Liberal party. The confusion was inevitable once Mr. Anscomb announced that he would retire from the Coalition before the next election. Until that time the Coalition can hardly be called a Government in the accepted sense of the term but has become only an uneasy alliance between two parties bent on each other's destruction at the first opportunity.

However the Conservatives are in a much worse state than the Liberals. As the dominant partner in the coalition, and able if necessary to govern alone with a small majority, the Liberals are in a position to call an election or postpone it and to frame the issues on which the election will be fought. The Conservatives, on the other hand, having agreed to all the Government's policies, will approach the election with no excuse for condemning any of the Liberal party's acts.

The key to the situation would seem to be the measure of strength Premier Johnson carried with him when he walked out of the Liberal meeting last week. If he remains leader in fact as well as name it is probable that the Coalition will end after the February session of the Legislature, and that a purely Liberal Government will be formed to carry on for the next eight or ten months. It depends upon just how serious was the rift in the Liberal party ranks last week.

Captain Courageous

On Thursday the news columns reported that the young freighter captain, Kurt Carlsen, who had been sticking to his disabled ship during one of the worst storms of the century on the north Atlantic, had lost his fight. However his action proved something of no small importance.

After the economic aspect, the laws of salvage and so on, are given due consideration, the fact remains that what held the attention of the world was not the value of his conduct measured in dollars and cents, but its value as a measure of human spirit and the courage and steadfastness it is capable of bringing forth in situations of grave peril.

It is true that Captain Carlsen was playing out a role that has long been symbolic of great acts of human courage—the captain standing by his sinking ship. But the act cannot be dismissed as a venture in heroics in the mind of anyone who has seen the Atlantic in mid-winter, and has imagination enough to see the picture of the small, badly damaged freighter being tossed about by the cyclonic violence of the recent storm.

It was an act of courage with a genuine ring to it. That is the reason why it was able to crowd out affairs of far greater magnitude and significance and hold universal interest, as well as arouse universal admiration.

PENTICTON HIT BY HEAVY SNOWFALL

Penticton and Summerland were stricken by a heavy snowfall late this morning, tying up traffic in some places. RCMP reported plows were working on the highway and motorists able to get through without too much trouble this afternoon.

Within half an hour after last Thursday's Kelowna Courier appeared on the streets, five-year-old Dana Disney recovered her doll.

An appeal was made in last Thursday's Courier to anyone knowing the whereabouts of the doll to return it to the broken-hearted little girl.

A CNR employee, thinking the doll had been mislaid, apparently put it in safe keeping. However, after reading the story in The Courier, he telephoned the Disneys. Needless to say, Dana quickly dried her tears, and is now the happiest girl in the world.

The wee tyke even telephoned the Courier news editor to personally thank him for "bringing my dolly home."

Local Legion to Sponsor Talent Show Jan. 17, 18

A LOCAL talent show, "Going Places," in which the audience can get into the act, will be presented next Thursday and Friday at the Legion auditorium under the sponsorship of the Canadian Legion Branch No. 26.

A cast of about 100 persons chosen from Kelowna and the surrounding community will present the show under the direction of Miss Clair Auld. C. E. Campbell is cast in the leading role.

The 10-scene show is designed to draw laughs and offer variety. It calls at numerous points for audience participation. A burlesque impersonation of harem dancing girls by six men dressed in oriental costume is expected to be a hilarious high point of the production.

All Jolson, played by John Sugars, will be among popular stage, screen and radio stars impersonated. A group of ladies from the Kelowna Legion Auxiliary will appear in the Kitchen Queens' Band playing instruments fashioned of such articles as pots, pans and washboards. A large group of local children will appear in a scene featuring enactment of the fairy tale Cinderella.

Men's groups will include a band of "conventionals" who sing in close harmony. A group of young Kelowna women will stage a fashion show.

STATION MASTER
Mr. Campbell will play the role of a station master retiring after 50 years of service. As he reminisces, characters and scenes he recalls are brought to life.

A baby contest will be held at this week's conjunction with the production of "Going Places" under the auspices of the Legion. Any Kelowna child under six years of age is asked to participate. A picture of the child and a container in which to place the votes should be brought to Leone's Hardware store. Contestants will be presented on stage the nights of the show.

At the final performance winners will be awarded silver loving cups donated by Pettigrew Jewellers. Second and third place prizes will be awarded as well. This popularity contest will end at 4:00 p.m. on January 18. Polling places are located in the stores of leading merchants and the standings will be posted each day on the window at Leone's, where pictures of the children competing are on display. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Leon Bowser.

Much of the audience participation results when he chats with the members of the audience, asking their opinions and reactions to the scenes he unfolds.

Rehearsals for the show are under way. Miss Auld said she is pleased with the talent here and believes the cast is well chosen. Advance tickets for the show are on sale at the Legion Hall, from Legion members, and the eighteen high school girls making up the chorus line for this fast moving, fun-packed show.

Ladies Of Lloyd-Jones Home Help Woman Expecting Baby

An ambulance call by Bob Richmond, manager of the Lloyd-Jones Home for Senior Citizens, resulted in a chance to do a good turn, for the ladies at the home recently. When Mr. Richmond was operating the ambulance, he and his wife were called to East Kelowna to pick up an alcoholic. Mrs. Richmond remained at the home of a neighbor while the man of the house and her husband went to the adjoining house to pick up the case.

It was while the men were away that Mrs. Richmond had a visit with the lady of the household, and offered the assistance of the ladies at the home. With a family of six children, and another expected soon and with her husband working only part time, the woman was worried about clothing the new infant.

"Every time I save up enough money to buy something for the new baby, it seems one of the other children needs something first," she said.

Mrs. Richmond then offered to take a few yards of flannelette, which was the only thing the expectant mother had been able to

PUPILS WATCH EXPERIMENT WITH RATS

Plans were made for a window display to publicize National Health Week, when members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Kelowna Public Health Service in the South Okanagan Health Unit met recently. Mrs. T. F. McWilliams was in the chair.

This display will feature two pairs of white rats being used in a feeding experiment, beginning with one pair has a balanced diet, and the other pair an unbalanced diet. The children are watching with keen interest the results of this contrast feeding.

Miss Alice Beattie, public health nursing supervisor, spoke to the group on "A Day with a Kelowna Public Health Nurse." She pointed out the varied nature of the program which includes care to all ages groups, beginning with care to the mother and baby, and continuing through the preschool, school and adult years.

MRS. G. EDWARDS' FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES

Coming to Canada while a young woman, Mrs. Edwards spent most of the time in B.C. and several years in Kelowna where she made a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards left here three years ago, giving up management of Kelowna Funeral Parlor, to take over management of a funeral home in Vancouver.

Last rites will be held Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. from the Roseblawn Memorial Chapel, with burial in Vancouver.

Besides her husband she leaves two daughters in Kelowna, Mrs. Harold (Mabel) Henderson and Mrs. Helen (Helen) Shirreff, and a daughter in Rossland, Mrs. R. (Audrey) Watson.

Packinghouse Union To Deal With Members Who "Sell Out Workers Of Okanagan To Opposing Union"

ANNUAL convention of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions (TLC) will be held in the Prince Charles Hotel, Penticton, January 25 - 26 - 27.

Resolutions that have been submitted for the convention to discuss include a wide range of subjects. Among these are amendments to the constitution dealing with members who "sell out the workers of the Okanagan to an opposing union."

The resolution stems from the fact that last year members of the organization were working for the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) and at the same time maintaining membership in the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union.

Latter part of last year, the FVW was the certified bargaining agent for members of the Packinghouse Union, working for the UPWA.

"We feel we were double crossed," declared W. H. Sands, director of organization for the FVW. "Unfortunately there is nothing in our constitution which prohibits our members belonging to another union."

Mr. Sands said the Penticton Co-Op is the only packinghouse in the valley. The UPWA at one time had control of all packinghouses in

MINOR INJURIES IN AUTO CRASH

Two passengers in an auto driven by Thomas S. Hughes of Rutland received minor injuries when the car was in collision shortly before noon Thursday with another auto at the Kluny Court corner at the eastern city limits.

Treated in hospital and then released were Mrs. P. E. French and three-year-old Ellen Hughes, both of Rutland. Driver of the second car involved in the collision was A. H. McCallum, Vernon. Aggregate damage was $300.

Semi-Final And Final Now Best-of-Five Series

PRESIDENT Dr. Ralph Hughes of Kamloops rode out a rough storm at yesterday's meeting of the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League—a meeting that southern team delegates insisted upon, even if it meant asking the president for his resignation.

The sharp criticism of the three southern clubs—Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton, centered around Dr. Hughes' policy in regard to referees. When the parley was over some of the irritants in the league set-up were cleared up through the appointment of a referee-in-chief. He is Claude Small, of Vernon, who served in that capacity three years ago.

Another major development was a new playoff policy, though still three teams are eligible and not all four, as requested by Penticton. The semi-final and final now will be best-of-five affairs. At a previous meeting the semi was set at best-of-three and the final at best-of-five.

The new change in playoff will mean some change in the schedule again, with Vernon and Kelowna already agreeing to change the Feb. 23 game (Vernon at Kelowna) to Feb. 21. As presently set up, the schedule ends Feb. 22. But with the new playoff plan, the semi-final will have to begin on that date in order to declare a winner in time for interleague playoffs.

Small, a man of considerable experience as a referee in prairie hockey leagues, will assume his duties next Sunday if a meeting of Small, referees and coaches reveals to him that he can expect co-operation from league officials.

Naming of the new referee-in-chief, who assumes duties retained up to now by President Hughes, came as a result of general dissatisfaction throughout the league.

Both Vernon and Kelowna were critical of the appointment of two Kamloops referees to handle many of the games at Kamloops.

WOULD BAR NELSON
Penticton came forward with a plea that a change from Bill Nelson and Arnold Smith be considered. Lefty Grove, Penticton delegate, placed before the meeting a petition signed by Penticton hockey followers, asking that Nelson be barred from refereeing in this league.

Grove, however, did not support the petition, saying that much of the trouble stemmed from the fact that fans saw too much of the present two referees.

Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon bluntly demanded why the president had failed to name one of two men suggested to him as referee-in-chief at a previous meeting. Suggested were Small and Dr. Mel Butler, of Kelowna.

They also wanted to know why John Kubasek, one of last year's imported arbiters, had not been added to the list of this season's referees. Dr. Hughes explained that he had been unable to get Kubasek to answer his communications.

The decision to have semi and final playoffs changed to best-of-five was opposed by Kamloops.

ON POINT BASIS
Penticton came out for a four-team playoff on the grounds that failure to make the playoffs this year would put them on the financial rocks.

While league delegates were in sympathy with Penticton, they said such a move would remove team incentive to play its best hockey and would reduce public interest in league games.

Playoffs will be worked out on a point basis, the same as league games. A 10-minute overtime period (if necessary) will be played in all games but the deciding one, in which case the teams will continue until a decision is reached.

Kelowna delegates to the meeting were Charlie Dore and Roy Pollard. Other delegates were: Kamloops, Dr. John Cameron and Keith McAllister; Vernon, Bill Howard and Red Holland; Penticton, Lefty Grove and A. D. C. Washington.

L. R. Stephens was re-elected president of the Canadian Red Cross Society (Kelowna branch) meeting Monday afternoon. Other officers were also re-elected by acclamation.

Vice-president is Mrs. J. H. Horn, Okanagan Mission, while William Metcalfe starts his tenth term in office as secretary-treasurer.

Honorary presidents are Hon. Groote Stirling, P.C., Mayor J. J. Ladd, and C. L. Jones, M.P.

The committee chairmen were appointed as follows: disaster services, C. R. Bull, with Mrs. Jud Ribelin as vice-chairman; Junior Red Cross, city, Charles Bruce, and country, A. S. Matheson, Inspector of Schools; Fred Marriage resigned after serving 12 years as chairman for the city schools.

Home nursing, Mrs. O. V. Maude-Roxby, with Mrs. Mary Allan, vice-chairman; women's work, Mrs. M. S. Cummings; publicity, Mayor J. J. Ladd; blood donor service, Mrs. J. H. Horn; transportation, R. Wilson.

Still to be appointed by the executive are heads of the swimming and water safety, and financial campaign committees.

On the executive are E. R. F. Dodd, Charles Bruce, Mrs. O. J. Knox, Chapter, IODE.

Donations Made For Furnishing Hospital Wing

Two more donations have been received for the furnishing of the new wing of the Kelowna General Hospital.

According to hospital director C. R. Bull, donations were recently made by the First Mennonite Church ladies' aid, and the Dr. W. Dadd, Charles Bruce, Mrs. O. J. Knox Chapter, IODE.

Referred to the type of men on the City Council, Mr. Catpole said "let me point out that these men are inevitably a cross section of the people over whose affairs they preside. No magistrate, chief or stipendiary and no police force can maintain right and justice if the people will that it be otherwise. Rector Calls For Close Co-operation Between Church And Civic Gov't

"Democracy can only work if the people do their part. Let criticism be constructive, not the destructive and nagging variety," declared Archdeacon D. S. Catpole, rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Church Sunday morning.

Mr. Catpole's address was prepared especially for the observance of Civic Sunday proclaimed by Mayor J. J. Ladd following the inaugural session of the City Council last Monday.

At the outset of his address, Mr. Catpole commended Mayor Ladd for following the example of his predecessor, Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, who, upon taking office five years ago, called for the observance of Civic Sunday to ask the blessing of the Almighty on those who are carrying out civic business.

IN GOOD HANDS
Mr. Catpole referred to the responsibility of a civic administration. "You can make or break this city's reputation. You can keep the place clean or you can make it reek in the nostrils of all decent people. I am no newcomer here, and nearly ten years' experience of this town makes me confident that our city's affairs are in good hands; in the hands of honest and conscientious men. Men of that calibre are constantly about God's business," he declared. "The church is always ready to work hand in hand with the council and the council would lose nothing, but gain much, by supporting with their presence and prayers, the respective religious bodies to which they do or ought to belong," he continued.

Many Important Resolutions To Be Considered by BCFGA

CLOSE to 75 resolutions will be considered at the three-day BCFGA convention by the 87 delegates when the parley gets underway tomorrow morning at Penticton.

Following is a summarization of the resolutions which will be submitted by the various locals:

B.C. TREE FRUITS

The resolutions affecting B.C. Tree Fruits and the B.C. Fruit Board are always of primary interest.

Because the marketing of any variety beyond its prime, has a depressing effect on all varieties of apples, Kaleden asks that consideration be given to a time limit for the marketing of any variety.

Creston has a resolution asking for thinning information earlier than usual this year, in anticipation of a big crop.

Creston also asks that new and better methods of placing the product in the hands of the consumer be adopted at once.

Oliver wants any financing saving in the packing program be credited to the apple pool, through such savings have accrued through the activities directed by B.C. Tree Fruits. The preamble points out that extra costs of experimental and special packages in the packing program are charged to the pool.

Penticton seeks some change in the packing program to permit an easier and less costly sale of soft fruits to travellers. The idea is that sales could be boosted to coast people visiting the valley, if cheaper packaging could be used.

Oliver wants an experiment tried in estimating the apple crop. It suggests that for one year one person or agency be named to take a continuous survey of the factors affecting crop estimates. This estimate would be checked against that taken in the usual manner.

The BCFGA executive has a resolution recommending that the involving of all fruit shipments be centralized under B.C. Tree Fruits.

POOLING

Winfield-Okanagan Centre complains about the lack of pooling information and wants the actual amount of money paid into the pool by each variety and grade, together with the amount actually credited to each variety and grade for the current year, as well as for the past four years, printed and sent to each local for distribution among the members.

Westbank wants the present pooling system done away with and in future each variety and grade to stand on its own feet. The argument here is that under the present pooling system popular varieties and grades have been subsidizing less desirable ones, a practice which encourages growers to continue to produce less popular varieties and grades.

CHANGE COMMITTEE

Winfield-Okanagan Centre seeks a change in the composition of the pooling committee. At present the committee is composed of two growers, two shippers and two B.C. Tree Fruits men. The resolution calls for the committee to be composed of eight growers whose incomes are derived mainly from the growing of fruit.

The same local wants a yardstick or schedule of values for various varieties of apples set up. This is to be based on the present popularity of the variety. The yardstick should be used to maintain the relationship between varieties in the pool and that no change should be made in the yardstick unless it can be shown that the popularity of a variety has increased or decreased over a three-year period.

Penticton wants Flemish Beauty and Bartlett pears pooled separately.

Perry Resigns As Head B.C. Liberal Association

VANCOUVER—(CP)—President H. G. Perry has resigned the presidency of the B.C. Liberal Association. He made his announcement at the conclusion of a stormy meeting of the organization's executive council at which Premier Byron Johnson's personal opposition forced withdrawal of a demand for immediate dissolution of the Coalition Government in which the Liberals and Progressive-Conservatives are associated. Despite the recorded decision of the executive, political pundits today are forecasting that the Coalition will be dissolved long before the next Provincial Election, scheduled for not later than 1954.

The hot and heavy debate, in which Premier Johnson appeared to lose control of his temper, was concluded and the decision reached after a keynote speech by Syd J. Smith, M.L.A. for Kamloops. In his talk, Mr. Smith said he had found widespread "unsettled feeling and dissatisfaction" among the public during his tours of the province as chairman of the Hospital Inquiry Board.

Premier Johnson's fiery speeches succeeded in postponing a general election of the B.C. Liberal Association until after the next session of the Legislature, scheduled to begin on February 19.

JUNE CONVENTION

The demands for an immediate provincial convention had come from Liberals who wanted the party to immediately quit the Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition formed in 1947.

After a fiery speech by Mr. Johnson, in which he criticized members of the B.C. Liberal Association, the executive decided to call a general convention before June 30. It may be held during the Easter recess of the Federal House of Commons.

Original resolution before the executive called for the convention to be held before the end of February.

The final decision was reached after Premier Johnson had said that if the party decided to break Coalition before the Legislature session February 19, he would call a general election. He said it would be impracticable "to do anything else."

Mr. Perry's resignation from the presidency came as a surprise at the conclusion of the day-long session of hot and heavy debate. He said he was resigning "primarily" for reasons of health, but also because he had "other matters to attend to."

"My decision is final and irrevocable," said Mr. Perry. For 40 years he has been active in the Liberal Party and he has been Provincial President since the 1949 convention.

Earlier in the day Mr. Perry had been flayed by Premier Johnson for statements to the press that Mr. Johnson was selling out B.C. and that the Liberal cabinet ministers were "weak-kneed."

Mr. Perry's retirement announcement came just before the executive council adjourned its meeting. The office of president will be filled until the next convention by Mrs. J. L. Gates of Victoria, first vice-president.

In a fighting speech, Premier Johnson told the executive council he was "amazed" he had not been consulted before the resolutions committee submitted the motion demanding an immediate general convention of the party.

DEFENDS ADMINISTRATION

"As long as I am premier of the province I am going to carry out my responsibilities to the people who elected me," he said in referring to his election as a Coalition premier.

"I thought the party meant what it said when it voted 520 to 96 that it would enter Coalition," he added. "I thought that when I accepted the mandate of the people, I was doing what the party wanted."

"I cannot accept that resolution," The resolution called for the termination of the Coalition "immediately following the forthcoming convention," and demanded that the convention be held before the end of February.

Premier Johnson defended his administration, before the 150 delegates, and declared:

"I would not expect to have a convention date set without consulting me as leader of the party in B.C. It does not seem reasonable."

Premier Johnson and Mr. Perry exchanged sharp words after the premier finished his address.

"I am happy to learn," said Mr. Perry, "what grand achievements have been made by the Coalition Government. But after hearing the leader speak, I am wondering what Mr. Anscomb (Progressive-Conservative leader) will be able to take credit for after our leader takes full credit for all these things of our party."

"FAST HORSE"

Premier Johnson jumped to his feet. "I didn't take credit for the Liberal party," he snapped. "I took it for the Provincial Government. The president is putting words in my mouth I didn't say. It's for the government, not for myself, that I am taking the credit."

Fisheries Minister Mayhew, who came from Ottawa to attend the meeting, jumped into the anti-Coalition talk with this declaration:

"Coalition has been a good government, but now we have a fast horse and a slow horse together, and the fast horse is tired of carrying the load for the slow one." His inference was that the Liberals are the "fast horse," the Progressive Conservatives the "slow one."

Speaking to the resolution on the ending of Coalition, Premier Johnson said "there is no question but that we are going to the country in the next election as Liberals and Progressive Conservatives. The voting machinery is set up for it."

UNDER ATTACK

The premier later complained that he had been under attack from within the Liberal Party while he was in hospital as the result of an automobile injury in the east. "If I had been out doing things I should not, I would not have minded," he said, "but I was on official business of the government."

Other resolutions adopted call on the Provincial Government to:

1. Reverse its policy on motor insurance and to change the law, to permit control of fire blight.
2. Hold a plebiscite "not later than the next election to determine the wishes of the people as to the proper method of sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages in B.C."
3. Exempt children's clothing and schoolbooks from the three percent Sales Tax; exempt all medicines and purchases for the use of all pensioners now exempt from income tax; and to make a more equitable distribution of the tax in order to "lighten the burden on the municipalities."
4. Appoint an Economic Development Commission to report and make recommendations on all problems arising from changing channels of trade in B.C.
5. Appoint a commission under the "Public Inquiries" Act to assist the Legislature in co-ordinating all government spending and to effect economies.
6. Amend the Civil Service Act to permit persons over 45 to work for the government, and contribute to the superannuation scheme.

The resolutions committee sidestepped a long resolution submitted by a local association on the separate school question. It asked all local associations to report their views to the president.

AS A RESULT OF A PLAN DEvised BY LOCAL SCHOOL PUPILS, elementary and secondary schools throughout British Columbia will sell apples through their Junior Red Cross divisions. Miss Margaret Palmer, provincial director of the Junior Red Cross, from Vancouver, spent several hours in Kelowna on Monday, during which time she conferred with Dr. R. T. Hall, dental director of the South Okanagan Health Unit, Penticton, and officials of the fruit industry here.

The proposed apple selling in the schools by Junior Red Cross would be both as a preventive dentistry measure and for better nutrition, she said. Local Junior Red Cross groups have been selling apples to their class-mates at recess and noon hours in the three main elementary schools in the city for four years now, according to Principal F. T. Marriage.

After a brief visit to the high schools in Kelowna, Miss Palmer returned to Vernon, where she spent two days meeting with Junior Red Cross and public health officials.

Mrs. Charlotte Hamlin, eldest daughter of A. L. Patterson, well-known local contractor, visited friends and relatives here this week before travelling on with husband and son to the Marshall Islands in the Trust Territory.

Mrs. Hamlin was born and raised in Kelowna. She went to the Kelowna Junior High School, later taking pre-nursing classes at Canadian Union College in Alberta. She received her R.N. at Loma Linda, California, in 1943, and a B.Sc. degree in nursing science at Walla Walla College, Washington, in 1945. The Hamlins will be engaged in pioneer missionary work in the Far Eastern Island Mission with headquarters at Guam. This mission is one of the many operated by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church who have missionaries now working in nearly 800 languages around the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin and Eugene will shortly leave by plane from San Francisco, and expect to reach Guam by the end of January. While in Kelowna the Hamlins stayed with Miss Lily M. Patterson and Mrs. Ella Inches 722 Harvey Ave.

MUSIC LOVERS

A social gathering for music lovers—fiddle, woodwind, piano, or voice artists—is being promoted by Mrs. Wilma Dohler, well-known local concert pianist and music teacher.

"It's for the sheer purpose of making music and fun," said Mrs. Dohler, in extending an invitation to anyone in the city who enjoys making music, to come to her home on Sunday evenings after church. Not at all professional, Mrs. Dohler wants people to "feel free to come, whether I know you or not."

The gatherings will commence on January 20 at 8:30 p.m., and continue every second Sunday. Anyone interested, and who would like more information, should contact Mrs. Dohler at 1502 Richter Street, or phone 1304.

Week-end Chatter

by MIL CRITTENDEN

Another adventurous English girl who's "out to see the world" made a brief stop in Kelowna last week. Irene Larwood, from Norwich, Norfolk, who travels on an expense account with a sample case full of Revlon beauty products, is viewing the world through a thick fringe of lilac-colored eyelashes. (Lilac-colored mascara, that is!)

Her predecessor, Peggy Thomas, you'll recall, made the across-Canada junkie on a motorcycle while her kinky-haired Airedale, Matelot, literally grew up in a box behind her.

The two girls differ in appearance. Irene, a beauty representative for Revlon, has acquired some of the gloss and patina that we associate with girls who make a career of fashion. Peggy has a somewhat rough-and-ready appearance as she sits astride her motorbike in blue jeans and flats. Still, it seems to me, the girls are sisters-under-the-skin... two blithe spirits who felt the pull of far-away places and set out with lots of dash but very little cash in the pocket.

Before leaving England just eighteen months ago, Irene was engaged in window display work and assisted with fashion shows. After months of arduous penny-pinching (which even included walking to save the price of bus fares) she and a girl friend saved enough money for a one-way passage to New York. They spent two weeks in the big city, during which they almost exhausted their small backlog of savings, then proceeded to Toronto.

In Toronto both girls landed jobs immediately. Irene, clerking in Eaton's dress department. They had started to save again with a view to more travel when a lucky break came their way. They met an elderly couple who were planning to retire in Victoria. They wanted to travel West by plane, and were looking for someone to drive their luxurious big car across the continent for them. The girls, of course, seized the opportunity and enjoyed a leisurely trip West via the southern States with stopovers in California.

Once in Vancouver, Irene's friend found a job with the Canadian Pacific Airlines. Irene, however, had less luck. Weeks slipped by and once again she was near the end of her financial resources. She admits she was a "little desperate" by the time her landlady happened to introduce her to someone who hired her as a Revlon representative.

Since then Irene has travelled back and forth across Canada three times, conducting "Beauty Schools" in towns from the Maritimes to B.C. She is now slated for a special six-week course in New York and will then go on to an even better job with her company.

Twenty-four-year-old Irene says she "just loves travelling" and doesn't see how she will ever settle down. When and if she does, however, she says she'd like to live in a place like Kelowna. "In the roman department, I gather that top man is a certain Canadian bush pilot, but, as far as Irene is concerned, marriage is something to think about later—much later.

I asked if her friend would eventually get free travelling passes with the C.P.A. "Oh, yes," Irene said, "but she can't wait that long." Apparently she has already saved enough money for a trip to Europe and will leave next month. She's buying a return ticket to Canada and plans to travel to England, France and Switzerland in the next few months. "It's easy to save money in Canada," Irene said, which impressed me as the most amazing remark I've heard in some time.

I found Irene Larwood a stimulating person to talk to with her buoyant personality and obvious zest for living. There's something refreshing about her "footloose and fancy-free" outlook on life. I couldn't help comparing her with our security-minded Canadian and American girls. It seems to me that most of our young girls today have only one idea. That is to nab a man as early as possible and settle down to a twenty-year mortgage and bridge club every second Tuesday.

While in Kelowna, Irene conducted her "School of Beauty" at the Royal Anne Hotel. Among those attending were Joyce Reinbold, Jean Woods, Beth Dunlop, Kay Braniff and Betty Wilson.

MRS. McWILLIAMS

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

Mrs. T. F. McWilliams was re-elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Local Council of Women, at their annual meeting held Friday night. Thirteen organizations were represented. Members voted, also by acclamation, Mrs. G. Herbert as corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. Barre as recording secretary.

Other officers are first vice-president, Mrs. Winifred Stephens; second vice-president, Mrs. Bruce Deans; third vice-president, Mrs. D. M. Black; chairman of conservation committee, Miss Hattie Ensey; chairman music and art committee, Mrs. M. Muriel Foulkes; and chairman health and welfare committee, Mrs. H. M. Trueman.

Guest speaker at the meeting was S. Pearson, of Glenora, who spoke on the subject of town planning, or regional planning as it is now called. He discussed the planning as making the best use of the available land, and stressed the fact that this must begin with the first building in a town. He stated how important it was to prevent strip development and forecast the appearance of a trained town planner for the Okanagan.

NEW SECRETARY

Miss Phyllis Marsh was installed as secretary, succeeding Mrs. Kny Kittle, who has moved to Vancouver, at their meeting Monday night, at the Stagettes Club. Members gathered at the home of Mrs. Irene Burnett, 1370 Ethel Street.

"By the great Horn Spoon, those were gales," said the bosun. "Not only could we not round the Horn, but the fury of the elements was driving us backwards up the coast of America. Only by the unusual feat of using the bowsprit as a rudder could I keep us from perishing on these inhospitable shores. At this point, a flock of gigantic albatrosses sank exhausted on the deck. Hastily reviving them with tots of our cargo, Lamb's Navy Rum, I harnessed them to the vessel and encouraged them to fly in the desired direction. The upshot was that our time for the Boston-Sacramento run stood as a record for thirty years."

"That's a Rum Story," said the unsuspecting guest.

"Thank you, sir. I should enjoy nothing better than a Lamb's Navy Rum."

"MIRACLE" SHIP TAKES OFF FROM COBOURG FIELD

AIRBORNE AGAIN is the giant U.S. airliner which landed on a farmer's field at Cobourg, Ont., three weeks ago. The "Commando," repaired on the spot by mechanics, rose slowly into the air and

Some were thrown by the waves back to the ship's deck when they jumped overboard. Capt. Carlsen had to leave his ship when it turned over and sank a few miles from port.

CONSTRUCTION OF NATURAL GAS PIPELINE FROM ALBERTA TO MONTREAL MAY PUT CANADA INTO "GAS AGE"

CONSTRUCTION OF A gas pipeline from the Alberta oilfields as far east as Montreal may hinge on the decision of Alberta's conservation board. The decision is expected to be announced on March 15. If Alberta decides there is an exportable surplus, Canada may step into a "gas age" almost overnight. Already a pipeline company is planning to build the 2,240-mile line at a cost equal to that of the St. Lawrence seaway, about $275,000,000. The line would revolutionize commercial and domestic heating in millions of homes and factories. It is believed it would be cheaper than coal or fuel oil, easier to handle and cleaner. The line would have 5,000 customers per mile as compared to the 600 per mile in the Texas-to-Boston 2,000-mile pipeline.

McMeekin Loses 1st Shutout With Only 34 Seconds To Go

VERNON 1, KELOWNA 4

By AL DENEGRIE

TIMES, almost without number this hockey season, there have been two luminaries at Kelowna Packers' home games. Thursday night, two men who had played the starring rôle before were back for another bow.

Roy McMeekin, steadily regaining his self-confidence in the net and showing no signs of his mid-season slump, was in his most sublime performance this season and came within only 34 seconds of registering his first shutout.

Ken Amundrud, Kelowna's surprising fire ball, shared the limelight. He was easily the most effective man between the opposing fortresses and he came close to beating all existing records for a speedy hat-trick.

The shutout-hungry Packers called on every trick of the trade in the last period to preserve the goose-egg intact—but they made the fatal mistake of underestimating Vernon Canadians' ability to make the most of opportunities.

Packers lapsed just long enough in the final minute of the game to allow Bud Andrews and linemates Alex Ritsen and Bill Tarnow to sift through to dupe McMeekin out of position and slide in the shutout-spiller at 19:26. Andrews was on the payoff end.

GAME HAD EVERYTHING

The contest, ending 4-1 in Kelowna's favor, had everything in the way of entertainment, thrills, torrid action, nice passing and sensational goal-tending as both netminders were called on for prodigious saves.

Cliff Dobson was equal to most of them and McMeekin never faltered until the last Vernon shot on goal.

Canucks grabbed the initiative and held it until Stu Robertson banged in Joe Kaiser's rebound to send the Packers on their way just past the halfway mark of the first half.

Shortly afterwards Ken Amundrud whipped in two goals in the space of 10 seconds, with Jim Lowe setting up both and Jim Middleton drawing an assist on the first. About 15 seconds later Amundrud had a chance to drive in a third but this time Dobson had other ideas.

WOULD BEAT RECORD

If Amundrud had clicked then with a third goal, his hat-trick effort would have far overshadowed the present record held by Len Wallington of Vernon who notched a trio in 33 seconds two seasons ago at Vernon—against Kelowna.

The "30" margin stood good through an action-jammed scoreless second stanza. It looked as if 3-0 pool ticket holders were going to collect, what with only two minutes left in the game and no change.

But Mike Daski rang up Kelowna's fourth goal on a passout from Brian Roche with less than 90 seconds remaining. Andrews' goal that saved Vernon from a whitewashing came less than a minute later.

FROZEN FLURRIES—Everyone was pulling for ROY McMEEKIN to get a shutout, but probably no one was tugging harder than his mother, visiting here and watching her son perform in this league for the first time. . . . KELOWNA outshot VERNON 34-28. . . . There were seven minor penalties, four of them to the PACKERS. Neither team scored when having the manpower advantage. . . . Penalties were appointed in not seeing DAVE MACKAY in action for the first time. Vernon's defenceman was called back to the Coast by his employers, but should be back in Vernon shortly. . . . With a preponderance of centremen now, Packers had JOE KAISER on left wing. Ex-pros DOUG LANE and CHING DHEERE were the pick of the CANADIANS. . . . ALEX WATT caught PHIL HERGESHEIMER with the hardest check of the night. . . . Packers are idle until they host NANAIMO CLIPPERS here Thursday.

VERNON—Goal, Dobson; defence, Gloskas, Lane; center, Milford; wings, Hauck, Dheere. Subs: Ritsen, Tarnow, Andrews, Lucchini, Jakes, Merluke, Stecyk Watt. KELOWNA—Goal, McMeekin; defence, Kuly, H. Amundrud; center, Daski; wings, Durban, Roche, Subs: Robertson, Kaiser, Hergesheimer, K. Amundrud, Middleton, Lowe, Carlson, Penner.

First period—Kelowna, Robertson (Kaiser) 11:10; 2, Kelowna, K. Amundrud (Lowe, Middleton) 13:07; 3, Kelowna, K. Amundrud (Lowe) 13:17. Penalties: Kuly, Stecyk.

Second period—Scoring: None. Penalties: Hauck, Carlson.

Third period—Kelowna, Daski (Roche) 18:38; 5, Vernon, Andrews (Ritsen, Tarnow) 19:26. Penalties: Daski, Andrews, K. Amundrud.

Referees: W. Neilson, K. Stewart.

Commerk Cagers Chalk Up Win Over Vernon

The high-flying Vernon High School cagers ran into a little more than they could handle on their home floor last week when a pick-up squad from the Kelowna commercial league, sparked by Dave Wilson and Bill Kane, defeated them 50-54.

Wilson got 20 points and Kane 17. High man for the night was VHS's Don Nolan with 21. Clark was next in line for Vernon with 18.

MILLS BOOSTS LEAD
KAMLOOPS—Latest scoring statistics for the Kamloops Commercial Hockey League show Cliff Mills now leads the pack by 14 points with his 42-point total on 24 goals and 18 assists.

FLEMING'S TRIO PACES ELKS TO IMPRESSIVE WIN

VERNON 1, KAMLOOPS 6

(Special to The Kelowna Courier)

KAMLOOPS—Paced by big Jim Fleming's hat-trick and an almost flawless performance by goalie Lorne Lussier, the league-leading Kamloops Elks increased their margin over the runner-up Vernon club to 14 points by trimming the Canadians 6-1 before a full house here Saturday.

Elks took a 1-0 first period lead when Andy Clavechok tipped in Jack Taggart's pass while Ching Dheere was in the penalty box. They went ahead 2-0 in the middle session on goals by Don Campbell and Fleming.

Then in the third Fleming completed his hat-trick and Toby Brown added the other.

SHUTOUT FOILED

Lussier's bid for his third shutout was foiled early in the final frame, when Doug Lane rapped in Vernon's only goal. The Elksian netman stopped 35 shots, many of them labelled drives.

At the other end Cliff Dobson was called on to save 27 and two of the six that got by him were of the soft variety.

Bill Hryciuk was the top point-getter of the night with four assists. First period—1, Kamloops, Clavechok (Taggart) 10:04. Penalties: Clavechok, Stecyk, Dheere.

Second period—2, Kamloops, Campbell (Hryciuk) 5:31; 3, Kamloops, Fleming (Campbell, Hryciuk) 12:20. Penalties: Lane, Wilson.

Third period—4, Kamloops, Fleming (Hryciuk, Terry) 4:30; 5, Vernon, Lane (Hauck) 7:43; 6, Kamloops, Brown (Stein) 8:46; 7, Kamloops, Fleming (Campbell, Hryciuk) 18:41. Penalties: Gloskas, Taggart. Referees: Swaine, Neilson.

Vees' Playoff Hopes

Jolted by Twin Loss

Against Coast Teams

Penticton Vees' playoff hopes were rudely jolted during the exchange games at the Coast as the last-placed OSAHL squad lost to both Kerrisdale and Nanaimo; 8-4 at the former, Friday, and 8-2 to the Clippers Saturday.

Penticton supporters counted heavily on winning these two games that count in league standings. Vees are 12 points behind the third place Packers and now have played only two games less.

Vees engaged in an exhibition game at Nanaimo yesterday, losing 8-3. They play another exhibition tonight, at Kerrisdale, before heading home to prepare for Nanaimo Wednesday.

New Season Records Set In Commerk Cage Games

Flyers climbed into a first place tie with the idle Lakers Wednesday night, in one of the commercial basketball loop fixtures, by handing the Golden Owls their first defeat, a 35-24 outcome.

That same night the Klowns and their captain, Bill Kane, both set season's records as they turned back Rutland 46-31.

Klowns' 46 points was the highest made by a team this season while Kane's 21 points topped all previous individual efforts.

Rutland made their finest stab for their first win yet by more than holding the Klowns up to past the midway mark. They were actually leading 31-29 until they ran out of gas and didn't count a single basket from then on.

The other fixture also was decided with a late spurge with the Flyers leading by only 21-20 at the end of the third.

Games this Wednesday are: Lakers vs. Rutland, 7:00 p.m.; Klowns vs. Owls, 8:00 p.m.

Many Not Aware Amount Work Red Cross Doing, Declares L. R. Stephens

"Persons who have not served in some capacity, on a branch executive, a divisional executive, or any active work in the field cannot fully realize the scope and magnitude of the work undertaken by this society which is recognized not only among the Christian nations of the world, but also in most of the other nations which we regard as having attained a reasonable degree of civilization."

So said L. R. Stephens, in his fourth annual report as president of the Canadian Red Cross (Kelowna branch). A good attendance at the annual meeting held Monday afternoon in the board room of B.C. Tree Fruits, also heard the secretary-treasurer's and committee chairmen's reports, all evidencing an active and successful 1951.

Mr. Stephens felt the Kelowna branch could regard itself as one of the most active branches in B.C., meeting its obligations in a creditable manner both in respect to the financial campaign and the blood donations at the mobile clinics held twice per year. He mentioned the additional obligations accepted this past year in the matter of civil defence.

"In this respect, our role will be that of co-operation with civil and municipal organizations."

DESERVES SUPPORT

"I am convinced that the service which the society is prepared to render not only on a national-provincial scale, but also in the immediate community justifies the whole-hearted support of the people of this community to the work of the society," he added.

He paid tribute to the canvassers for their hard work during the 1951 campaign, to the United Church Hall officials for their help during clinics, to Mrs. Mary Allen, honorary member of the provincial executive, who has been of much assistance to the local branch; and to the many others who aided the Red Cross in its work locally last year.

Concluding his report, Mr. Stephens commended the Westbank Unit, which was creditably represented at the meeting by about seven members, for their organization as a unit of the Kelowna branch. Since the last annual meeting Mrs. J. H. Blackey had been appointed to the executive as the Westbank representative.

W. Metcalfe presented his ninth annual report as secretary-treasurer of the local branch. Members learned the final returns to provincial headquarters from the annual campaign for funds conducted last March, was $11,562.88. Quota had been $10,000. Another $179 was remitted to the provincial office from donations and fund raising events. Total operating allowance for 1951 was $358.17; while bank balance at December 31, 1951, showed $32.25. Campaign operating expenses totalled $26.09.

During his report, Mr. Metcalfe mentioned the work done by Mrs. J. Ribelin, as vice-chairman of the disaster relief committee. Confined to hospital, Mrs. Ribelin was unable to present her report at the annual meeting. Speaking for her, Mr. Metcalfe said, "When fires occur and the families have no money and no insurance, the Red Cross assists in the matter of bedding and clothing. Mrs. Ribelin goes around the stores with these people and buys the necessary articles. This last year, we have had six fires, all in the country except one. In every case bedding and clothing was supplied by the Red Cross."

Continuing his report, "Missing Persons. There are still Red Cross inquiries from people in Europe trying to get in touch with their friends and relatives living in the Kelowna district. I am glad to say that in practically every case we have been successful in locating the persons sought."

LOAN CUPBOARD

"Loan Cupboard. This service was the Wilson's Landing classes; and Miss Marion Metcalfe, in charge at Winfield.

A brief review of the activities of the Westbank Unit since its organization March 30 last was given by Mrs. C. MacLachlan, secretary-treasurer. The unit consists of three committees: women's work, blood transfusion and disaster relief.

AID FAMILIES

Westbank played host to the regional conference on November 9, when over 100 attended the sessions held in George Fringle High School. Total of 140 pints of blood was obtained at the October blood donors clinic in Peachland.

It was reported the women's work room is open the second and fourth Fridays of each month, and a considerable quantity of articles have been returned to headquarters. In conclusion, Mrs. MacLachlan mentioned the assistance given to two recently burned out Indian families by the disaster relief committee.

As disaster relief committee chairman, C. R. Bull told the annual meeting that a report giving the names of the committee chairmen, their deputies, and the duties they were prepared to undertake was submitted to J. H. Horn, Kelowna and district civil defence coordinator, and that as soon as this is accepted, a meeting of all those involved will be called to finalize preparations.

Charles A. Bruce, representing retiring Junior Red Cross chairman, F. T. Marriage, reported much continued activity in all the schools. For the second time in recent years, the Kelowna Elementary School ranked highest among the public elementary and high schools of the province with respect to cash donations forwarded to Junior Red Cross headquarters, during the period of twelve months ending August 31, 1951. In addition, they provided the total amount necessary for the purchase of a cot in the children's ward of the new wing of the Kelowna General Hospital.

"It would be difficult to overestimate the value of Junior Red Cross in this school, affording as it does excellent training in health, self-denial, consideration for others less fortunate, and democratic procedures," he said.

High school activity, in addition to sending a considerable sum of money to the Junior Red Cross Service Fund, Mr. Bruce pointed out, consists mainly in assisting senior branch at blood donor clinics, helping in the annual campaign for funds, personal service to needy families, serving hot dishes in the school cafeteria, supporting Junior Red Cross projects in Europe, and numerous other small activities.

Mr. Bruce also mentioned the Inter-High School Red Cross Council, formed in School District 23, Kelowna is proud of the fact, he added, that three times a Kelowna delegate has been chosen as one of Canadian representatives to attend International Red Cross leadership training camps. These were Brian Woodell, Melvin Shelley and Bob Foster.

HOME NURSING

Organization of home nursing classes in Kelowna, Okanagan Mission, East Kelowna, Rutland, and Winfield, was reported by Mrs. S. Maude-Roxby, chairman of the home nursing committee. Following the visit of Mrs. de Saige, R.N., provincial organizer of home nursing in the Red Cross, recently, the classes were organized. The first one was held Wednesday night, and the course of six will continue each Wednesday night for the next five weeks. As each course is completed, members will be asked to submit their names, so that a panel may be formed from which help could be obtained in the event of an emergency.

"Intensifying of personal appeals to regular donors to bring in new ones—at least two each—to the next clinic," was the major plea of Mrs. J. H. Horn, who presented her fourth annual report as chairman of the blood donor committee. Several reasons were offered for the possible explanation of the decrease in the number of donors at local clinics during 1951, but Mrs. Horn expressed definite dissatisfaction with the response. "Now is no time for standing still," she maintained.

MORE MALE DONORS

"Bright spots" during the year, which she recalled, included the increase in the number of male donors; the greater attendance by the outlying districts, noticeably Rutland on the west side, last July by Peachland and Westbank at the former centre; and the ever-increasing enthusiasm being shown by the Junior Red Cross, who after being called upon to help in various capacities at clinic time during the past two years, last Fall formed a regular blood donor committee among themselves.

Next blood donor clinic dates will be: Kelowna, March 4 and 5; Winfield, March 6 and 7; Westbank, March 7, 8, 9, 10; Horn, chairman of local branch blood donor committee announced.

Mrs. M. S. Cummings, who took over the chairmanship of the women's work committee upon the resignation due to health of Mrs. O. France, in her report, showed a total of 403 articles completed and shipped to Vancouver headquarters during the past year, plus a considerable quantity of Red Cross swabs.

Red Cross swimming and water safety chairman, John Kison, in his report to the local branch, showed a total enrollment in the summer classes of 400 at the Aquatic, 300 at Wilson's Landing camp, and 150 at Winfield-Okanagan Centre. Gil Wade supervised eight instructors for the Kelowna section; while Miss Lois Drake was in charge of people at large.

"Co-operation then, is essential. We are blessed with the democratic type of government. Democracy can only work if the people do their part. Let criticism be constructive, not of the destructive and nagging variety. And be prepared to pay the cost if you want better service. If the snowplow fills in your driveway, you must either shovel it out yourself or pay additional taxes to pay a crew to clear those driveways. The city has no more money than you give them with which to do your work. If I raise my voice in criticism now and then, it is constructive criticism and I am on the side of the Council. I do not justify everything that is done, but I like to think that what is done is done conscientiously and without thought of personal acumen," he continued.

Touching on criticism leveled from time to time, Mr. Catchpole said "If you don't build a City Hall and lay sidewalks and blacktop roads, we the people are apt to condemn you for a good-for-nothing council; but if you do all these things, we complain about the taxes! I dare say that you will make mistakes, but if you do what you do without fear or favor and if you do as if you were about not merely the people's but God's business, you need not be afraid of what anyone may say."

ROUTINE WORK

"From the mayor's opening address to the council, it is apparent that nothing spectacular may be attempted this year. Let me say this to you, born out of some years experience. Important as these 'achievement' periods are in the city life (corresponding in church life to our festival days and times in which we go in for lavish expenditure, as on our parish hall), it is the day-to-day life which counts most; in a parish, the Sunday by Sunday response; the weekday work; in the city the faithful, routine, able administration of its affairs. You, Mr. Mayor, will not build another City Hall, and I shall not build another Parish Hall. But we shall try to carry out our respective tasks under the guidance of God. You will do your best, as I hope we shall. I am sure that church and civic government working together will make this a happy place in which to live," he concluded.

THANK YOU!

The Kelowna and District Rod and Gun Club would like to take this means of sincerely thanking all merchants and individuals for their fine donations at last month's annual Game Banquet.
